

Articles of Interest

Infertility as a Reproductive Justice Issue

Provided by the University of Missouri-Kansas City School of Nursing and Health Studies
Jointly-Provider by the Clinical Training Center for Family Planning

Overview

The NCTCFP presents a new Continuing Education modality, “Articles of Interest,” featuring journal articles to keep you informed of family planning and reproductive health topics. This on-line resource provides an easy way to obtain CE credit at your convenience! Just read the articles and complete a quiz about the content.

Event Description

This one-hour Articles of Interest activity is part of the July 2022 Clinician Cafe and addresses the racial and socioeconomic disparities in female infertility rates and access to fertility services.

Successful Completion

To receive contact hours, participants must complete the activity with a satisfactory grade of 80% or higher on the quiz and complete the Evaluation/Request for Credit form. CNE and CPH Certificates as well as Certificates of Completion will be available immediately upon passing the course and submitting the evaluation.

Objectives

- Identify barriers and facilitators to perceived and actual access to health care for people who desire and have difficulty achieving pregnancy.
- Describe the epidemiology of infertility in the US.
- Discuss infertility as a reproductive justice issue.

Conflict of Interest

In accordance with continuing education guidelines, speakers and planning committee members have disclosed financial relationships with commercial interests that may create a potential conflict of interest.

Disclosures

Author Disclosures: Allison S. Komorowski, Tarun Jain, Jamila Perritt, Natalie Eugene, Amanda E. Janitz, Jennifer D. Peck and LaTasha B. Craig have nothing to disclose.

Planning Committee Disclosures: Katherine Atcheson, Angela Bolen and Sharon Colbert have nothing to disclose. Jacki Witt serves on the advisory panel for Mayne and Merck HPV Vaccine (mitigated). Kristin Metcalf-Wilson serves on the advisory board for Mayne and Afaxys Pharmaceuticals (mitigated). Karla Wilmot is a Nexplanon trainer for Merck (mitigated).

Commercial Support/Sponsorship:

There is no commercial support for this training.

Disclaimer:

The National Clinical Training Center for Family Planning is funded by the Office of Population Affairs to provide continuing education, training, and technical assistance to Title X grantees, subrecipients, and services sites. This activity is supported by DHHS grant number 1 FPTPA 006031-01-00. The contents of this activity solely represent the views of the speaker(s) and do not necessarily reflect the official positions of the Department of Health and Human Services or DHHS, Office of the Assistant Secretary of Health (OASH), or the Office of Population Affairs (OPA). No official support or endorsement by DHHS, OASH, OPA, or UMKC for opinions or products described in this activity is intended or should be inferred.

Accreditation StatementContinuing Nursing Education:

The University of Missouri-Kansas City School of Nursing and Health Studies is accredited as a provider of continuing nursing professional development by the American Nurses Credentialing Center's Commission on Accreditation.

This program offers up to 1.0 contact hour for this activity.

Certified Public Health (CPH)

Up to 1.0 CPH Recertification Credits may be earned for this activity.

Enduring Materials – CE will be awarded for this program through December 31, 2024.

Contact Angela Bolen at bolena@umkc.edu if you have questions regarding continuing education credit.